

HONEY..HONEY..LION!

The Hippo

The hippo looks comical and pudgy, but they are territorial and will attack, especially in water where they are very fast and agile. The hippo is a grazing animal, and it comes out of the water to feed at night. You can tell is a pond has hippos living in it because of the "hippo highways" radiating away from it. These are tracks worn in the grass that look like a two lane highway. I made sure to show them in my book.
